Blunsdon residents receive new play area

Hills Homes Developments has provided a new play area as part of its development at Hillside Way, for the young residents of Blunsdon.

The play area, which was designed with insight from Swindon Borough Council, was officially opened on Tuesday 17 July. The ribbon was kindly cut by Georgina Curtis, a Hillside resident. The opening also marks the transfer of ownership to Blunsdon Parish Council.

Homeowners currently living in the development were invited to the opening and were joined by Ian Jankinson and Stuart Boyd, chairman and vice chairman respectively of Blunsdon Parish Council and Nick King, Group director of Hills Homes.

Ian Jankinson said “It is really great to see children enjoying the play area. It is superb for the local residents”.

In addition to the play area, a number of allotments have been provided by Hills Homes Developments for the local community and will be handed over to Blunsdon Parish Council soon.
