Hills Homes scoops two regional awards

Hills Homes has scooped two awards at the LABC Building Excellence Regional Awards 2023.

Darren Cawkwell, Quality Control Manager, Hills Homes, won the 'Construction Specialist of the Year' regional award for the West of England. Darren collected his award in a recent presentation ceremony held in Swindon alongside his colleague Michael Kord, Site Manager, Hills Homes, who also picked up an award.

Michael won the 'Best Residential Site Manager' regional award for the West of England for his outstanding work at The Paddocks development in Blunsdon.

Mark Tinson, Divisional Director - Operations, Hills Homes, said: "It is an excellent achievement to have not one but two of the team recognised for their hard work and professionalism. Hopefully, a win beckons at the national finals."

Nick King, Group Director, Hills Homes, said: "We are delighted to have been recognised again by the LABC for our quality builds and expertise in the homes sector."

The pair will now go through to the LABC Grand Finals, which will take place early next year.
